On 18th August, 2023 the Department of Sociology conducted a special session titled 'Ruu-ba-Ruu,:Know your Department' at 10.00 am in the New Science Block, room no. 3. The objective behind the event was to highlight all the co-curricular activities and to get an understanding about the functioning of the Department of Sociology. In attendance were all the faculty members, the Teacher-In-Charge (TIC) Dr Gopi Devdutt Tripathy, the Association-In-Charge (AIC) Dr Anurita Jalan, Dr Aruna Grover, Mr Pawan Harsana, Dr Neeraj Kumar, Dr Bijayani Mishra, Mr Anurag Singh and Ms Gabriella Thempineng Tungdim.

The event commenced with Dr.Aruna Grover extending a warm welcome to the new first-year students, introducing them to the diverse courses offered by the Sociology Department as part of the Value Added Course (VAC) and Skill Enhancement course (SEC).

Dr Gopi Devdutt Tripathy in continuation again highlighted the Vision and Mission of the Department, The students were then shown glimpses of activities which took place in the department which included lectures and Webinars, Film Screenings ,Photos Exhibitions, Book Discussions, Visit to Museums, Field Trips, Academic Meet: IMAGINE, and the Department's annual Magazine- Sociologue "Aao Baat Karein", all of which actively were the ideas of the students with the moderation and supervision of the faculty resulting in the activities being a success.

The Editorial Board for the Departmental Magazine was then introduced, by Dr Gopi Devdutt Tripathy and Mr Pawan Harsana being the Editor-in-Chief, Dr Anurita Jalan being the Managing Editor and the fellow editors of the magazine from 3rd years, the Design team and the PR team. There after which the students were introduced to the major initiatives taken by the department such as; social media handles, Aashayein- The Happiness Project, Prospects: internships and job opportunities, the Alumni : Connects and finally Dastavez; the documentation and transcription unit of the department.

Dr Anurita Jalan introduced the significance of the field trip which is mandatory in the final year and is organised every year to enrich students' sociological understanding through practical experiences, which helps students to gain experiential learning and cultivate critical thinking, real world applications and preparing them for a well-rounded future.

Conducted under the guidance of Dr Gopi Devdutt Tripathy, elections are scheduled for the last week of August with Google Forms serving as the medium for Participation. The selection criteria was introduced by Dr Bijayani Mishra. Moving Forward, the current association members were introduced to the students. To assist association members there is also an informal student body who takes care of different heads such as the PR, Social Media, Volunteer, Hospitality, and Creative teams respectively for the students to actively participate and join. The event was then followed by an interactive session between the first year students and the faculty.

The event came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Bijayani Mishra.

Report of the Event:

On 25th of September 2023, the Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi, organized the screening of hollywood film Ratatouille in the Library Seminar Hall.

“Ratatouille” is a popular animated film produced by Pixar Animation Studios and released by Walt Disney Pictures in 2007. The movie explores themes of following one’s passion, defying societal expectations, and the idea that anyone, regardless of their background, can achieve greatness. The film has since become a beloved classic, known for its humor, memorable characters, and delightful portrayal of the culinary world.

The screening commenced with a welcome note by Astha Priya, the association President. Then the Teacher- In- Charge, Dr. Gopi Devdutt Tripathy shed light on the objective of film screening and its alignment with this year’s theme- “Food, Culture and Society” .She encouraged all the students to actively participate in the interactive session after the screening.

Post screening, the interactive session was moderated by Shobhna Sharma, a final year student and also one of the editors of the Editorial Board of the Department. After a brief review of the movie, Shobhna invited other members of the Editorial Board and students from all three years to share their experiences.

During the interactive session various themes were covered such as; food traits, cultural dimension of food, dining habits, emotional attachment to food, human values, consumerism pattern, and food choices. Students and Faculty also shared their “Ratatouille” moments which created an atmosphere of nostalgia and served as a great way for them to bond, exchange stories and appreciate the role food has played beyond nourishment. It was an insightful and interactive session, leaving the audience with many questions to dwell upon and ideas to further explore.

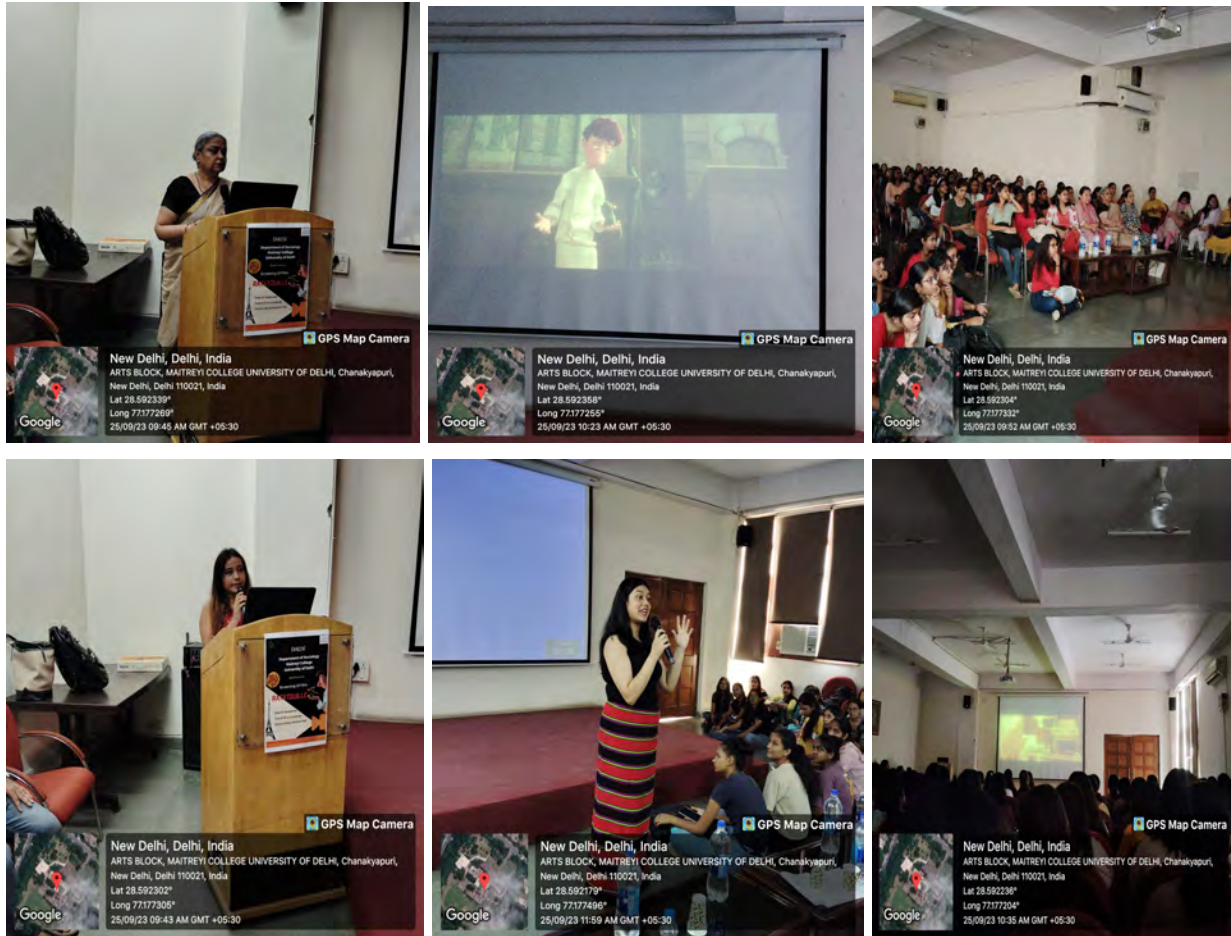

The program concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Kavita, Vice-President of the Association.

Report of the Event:

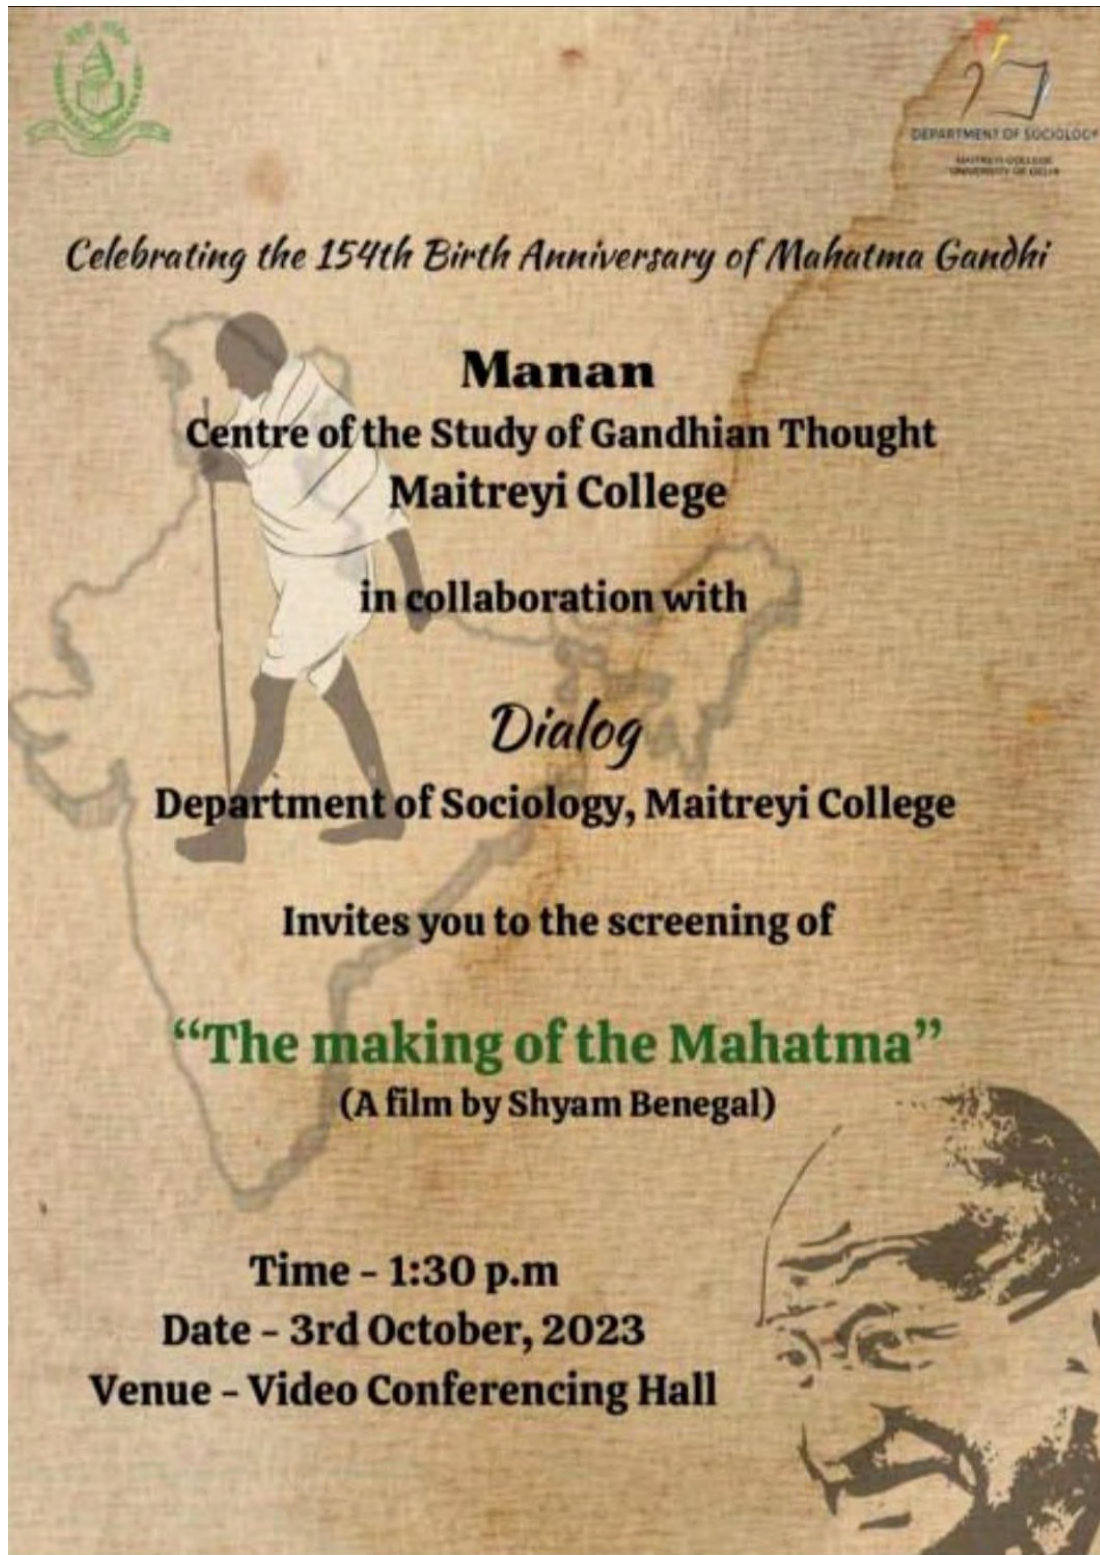

On 3rd of October 2023, the Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi, organized the screening of "The Making of the Mahatma" in the Library Seminar Hall.

The Making of the Mahatma is a 1996 biographical film directed by Shyam Benegal, about the early life of Mahatma Gandhi during his 21 years in South Africa. The film is based upon the book "The Apprenticeship of a Mahatma" by Fatima Meer. It was an international co-production between India and South Africa. The film has a certain rawness that makes the situation, setting and people look more real. In a nutshell, this film tells the compelling story of Gandhi's journey from a young lawyer to the symbol of a nation; a journey that had its costs and demanded sacrifice.

The screening began with a welcome note by Astha Priya, the association President. Then Dr. Aruna Grover shed light on the objective of film screening and significance of Gandhian thought on the occasion of celebrating the 154th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi. She encouraged the students to actively engage themselves while watching the film. The program saw a very good participation of students from other departments as well.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Divyanshi Behera, General Secretary of the Association.

Poster of the Event:

The poster features a textured, parchment-like background with a faint map of India. In the top left corner is the logo of Maitreyi College, University of Delhi. In the top right corner is the logo of the Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi. The central text is arranged vertically, starting with the celebratory message, followed by the organizing institution, the collaborating department, and the film title. At the bottom, the event details are listed. A silhouette of Mahatma Gandhi walking with a staff is on the left, and a close-up portrait of him is in the bottom right corner.

Significance of the event(Outreach/Soft Skill Development/Curriculum Enrichment, etc):

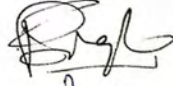

This film screening was part of the Gandhi Jayanti celebration in college. It provoked viewers to think about the sacrifices that were made by Bapu, his family, the participants of the Satyagrah movement. It highlighted the importance of truth and non-violence, not only in the life and struggle of Gandhiji, but also their relevance in the contemporary world.

Report of the Event:

On the 10th of October 2023, Dialog, the Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, University Of Delhi, organized a one day seminar on higher education in the UK in collaboration with SI-UK (Study In-UK) by Ms.Shweta Dua, in New Auditorium at 11 AM. Shweta Dua is the Recruitment Advisor for the University of Bristol and an experienced corporate expert with a background of working with UK operations brands.

The seminar began with a formal introduction by Mrs. Rajni, who holds the role of coordinator at SI-UK, an organization specializing in helping students pursue higher education in the United Kingdom. Following which, Shweta Dua took the stage and delved into the primary objectives and key topics to be addressed during the seminar. She provided valuable insights into the various factors that students should take into account when considering higher education in the UK through a PPT presentation.

Ms. Dua explained the entire procedure that international students should follow to secure admission in UK universities. This process generally involves submitting academic transcripts, standardized test scores (like the IELTS or TOEFL), letters of recommendation, and a personal statement. She offered tips on how to create a compelling application which could include powerful personal statements, showcasing one's strengths and achievements, and providing a clear sense of purpose and motivation. She highlighted the importance of a student's ability to 'think out of the box' to secure admission to a university especially in competitive application processes.

She discussed the various scholarship opportunities available to international students in the UK like the intake scholarship scheme, British Council India, MHRD scholarship. Information about post-graduation career prospects in the UK, including the job market, industries, and the demand for various fields of study, was shared. There was focus on the importance of aligning one's education with future career goals and importance of graduate immigration rules, concerning international students' ability to stay and work in the UK after completing their studies.

The testimonials and success stories of the enrolled students were displayed in the presentation which conveyed their records of achievements that included job placements, scholarships received, career growth and community impact. This emphasized how the program or institution played a pivotal role in the students' success and enabled the audience relate the stories to their own aspirations.

Last but not least she emphasized on various factors that students should consider when choosing the UK as their study destination, such as the quality of education, cultural experiences, lifestyle, and more. An overview of the duration of master's programs in the UK, opportunities for industrial placements and community experience in a student's life were relevant to the seminar's focus.

The conclusion of the program featured a vote of thanks delivered by Mrs. Rajni, in which she shared the details to enable further students' query regarding the program. This allowed students to seek additional information if they had any questions or concerns about the event.

REPORT:

On the 11th of October, 2023 the Department of Sociology conducted the Valedictory session of the 4 week Certificate Course in Creative Writing at 12:30 pm in the Library seminar Room.

The Valedictory session was formally introduced by Ms Shobhna Sharma, one of the editors of the Department Magazine, Sociologue and also a final year student of Sociology.

The session then commenced with Dr Gopi Devdutt Tripathy extending a warm welcome to everyone present in the session. She then moved forward in introducing the objectives of the 4 week certificate course in creative writing which was specially organized by the Department to hone both the writing and creative skills of the students. A course of this sort motivates young minds those who have an inclination in writing to express their thoughts into words and understand the art of writing.

The office bearers of the student association then went on to offer a token of appreciation to the special guest Dr Shanta Dutta Roy, former English Literature Professor at Maitreyi College and then to the resource persons for the workshop, Dr. Manas Firaq Bhattacharjee, and Ms.Manisha Saluja.

Dr. Shanta Dutta Roy, with a specialization in modern British Poetry by Philip Larkin, took the stage to inform the students about the art of creative writing. She emphasized the importance of creating both comprehensive and comprehensible work, stressing the significance of planning, research, and acquiring the necessary language and skills for the target readers. Dr. Roy also highlighted the therapeutic value of writing, quoting William Wordsworth's famous words, "Poetry is the spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings; it takes its origin from emotion recollected in tranquility." She urged students to be detail oriented and perform thorough proofreading. She then concluded with the presentation of two of her short poems, one addressing the issue of female foeticide and the other sharing her personal experience transformed into poetry after her mother's passing, titled "Dialogue with Mother."

Dr Manas Firaq Bhattacharjee, shared his perspective on the natural essence of writing, stating that writing is not something to be taught but rather an art that flows naturally. He spoke of his interactions with the students and praised their epistemic questions, highlighting the enthusiastic engagement during the workshop.

The final session featured Ms. Manisha Saluja, who started by sharing her intent to hold this certificate course in creative writing for a long time and once it came into work she then shared her journey as a lifelong student of writing, emphasizing the importance of keeping an open mind to learning from their students from this workshop. Ms. Saluja extended her gratitude to Dr. Manas for his tireless efforts in assisting students in personalizing their articles. She concluded with heartfelt congratulations to the department of sociology for the successful organization of the sessions, leaving attendees inspired and appreciative of her wisdom and contributions to the event.

Dr. Ritu Dhingra, Associate Professor, Physics and the Convener of the IQAC, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi extended congratulations to the Department of Sociology for the successful organization of the event

Following which 4 students, (Shobhna Sharma and Suchitra Khundrakpam from 3rd year, Meghna Mishra from 2nd year and Anshika from 1st year) who were part of the workshop presented excerpts from their write-ups on this year's departmental theme "Food, Culture and Society".

The session then came to an end with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Mr Pawan Harsana, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College.

Report:-

Dialog, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi, in collaboration with Ayurgyan Nyas, organized a two-day workshop on Innovative Teaching/Learning Methodologies on 30th-31st October 2023 for faculty members across Delhi University colleges. Ayurgyan Nyas is a non-profit organization established in 2014 under the aegis of the Dalai Lama Trust (DLT). The organization aims at working towards the development and integration of Universal Ethics Education (UEE) in educational institutes, organizations and grassroots community spaces. They develop and deploy Universal Ethics based curriculum interventions for young individuals in institutional and community settings and believe in developing young individuals and communities as ethically, socially and emotionally aware agents of societal transformation.

The two day workshop attempted to focus on finding answers to problems related to ethical concerns in a teaching environment and instilling a more reflective approach, helping teachers to engage with students so as to make universal ethics a part of their everyday lives. The event was brightened by the enthusiastic participation of faculty members from varying disciplines ranging from Humanities to Sciences.

Day 1 of the workshop began at 9.30 with a brief introduction by Dr. Aruna Grover who emphasized the role teachers play in instilling moral and ethical principles in students and the lasting impact they have on students. This was followed by a formal welcome address by Dr. Gopi Devdutt Tripathy; Teacher in Charge, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, who thanked the faculty and the collaborators and expressed her hope for an insightful session. The proceedings were continued by the Association-in-charge; Dr. Anurita Jalan, who emphasized the aim of ethical education- which is to provide comprehensive development- and the need to engage and reinforce ethical values in education. She further emphasized that the foundation of Universal Ethics Education (UEE) serves to help students grow into ethical, compassionate beings who consciously take responsibility for the world that they live in, keeping in mind the welfare of all human beings.

Mrs Anshu Sahi (Trustee, Ayurgyan Nyas) then started an ice-breaking session, wherein the participating faculty members were asked to formally introduce themselves and give each other adjectives based on their personality traits. Following this, she introduced a module titled 'Ethics of Virtue' with the intention of developing a tendency of awareness and appreciation of the importance and benefits of leading a virtuous life. She added that the module was designed to stimulate virtuous behavior through various anecdotes and activities.

Ms. Pooja Malhotra (Program Manager, Ayurgyan Nyas) further showcased a PPT detailing the five components of Universal Ethics Education: Ethics of Restraint, Ethics of Virtue, Universal Responsibility, Ethics of Compassion and Discernment. Additionally, she touched upon topics such as emotions, chain of emotions, mindfulness, afflictive emotions and their adverse impact on our psyche. A variety of complementary activities took place as the session progressed, in which the collaborators engaged with the teachers. These ranged from short activities such as a quick check of the current emotions of the faculty and listing down emotions shown in given scenarios, to acting out various scenarios and expressions through body language, and learning about the bodily manifestations of emotions.

Day 2 comprised of classroom activities such as simulations of classroom situations and describing oneself with three adjectives. The session was made even livelier with the participants being divided into groups of two for the conduction of a debate on the topic 'Public Transport in the Future'. This debate saw an enthusiastic response from the participating faculty. The session further delved into the importance of values such as humility, equanimity, empathy, gratitude, generosity, contemplation, contentment and forgiveness- collectively termed as Wheel of Virtues and antidotes. Short videos were shown and examples were given for the same. Mr. Ankush Thakur, (Research Associate, Ayurgyan Nyas) discussed other topics such as; depression, circles of compassion, challenges in extending compassion, reactions to suffering and overcoming afflictive emotions etc. The workshop ended with a formal vote of thanks by Dr. Neeraj Kumar, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi

On January 24, 2024, SI-UK organized their university fair at Shangri-La Eros Hotel in New Delhi, aimed at providing students with information and opportunities to pursue higher education abroad. The fair focused on universities in the UK, Australia, and Canada.

Students from the Sociology Department of Maitreyi College were accompanied to the venue by Dr Bijayani Mishra, faculty of the Sociology Department where they underwent a streamlined registration process. Each student was assigned a counselor with whom they engaged in a personalized one-on-one counseling session. This session focused on understanding the students' subject interests, aiding in the tailored selection of universities suitable for their academic and career aspirations. Following the counseling session, students had the opportunity to interact with representatives from over 60 universities participating in the fair. This allowed them to gather comprehensive information about the courses and programs offered by various institutions. At the end of the fair, all the students filled in the feedback forms, rating their overall satisfaction with the event.

The fair's highlight was the subject-based approach to university recommendations. Students were provided with a list of universities based on their subject interests, facilitating a more targeted exploration of educational opportunities. The meticulous organization, one-on-one counseling sessions, and subject-based recommendations created a valuable platform for students to make informed decisions about their higher education journey. The fair's impact extended beyond a mere information exchange, fostering a collaborative environment where students can envision and plan their academic and professional futures on an international scale.

Dialog, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi organized an open Seminar in collaboration with Drishti IAS on 25th January at 11am in the NSB Seminar Hall. Drishti IAS is one of the leading coaching institutes in India and in the past two decades or so, it has produced numerous success stories with the help of its expert faculty and innovative teaching methods. This open seminar was organized to provide students who wish to pursue a career in the civil services an insight into preparation strategies to crack the civil services exam.

The session began with a welcome address by Dr. Neeraj Kumar, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College thanking Mr Prashant Sharma from Drishti IAS for his presence and expressing his hope that the students would be able to increase their knowledge on preparing for the civil services exam.

Then, Mr. Prashant Sharma went on emphasizing the importance of student participation and a two-way interaction for the effectiveness of the seminar. He provided different roadmaps for the 1st, 2nd and 3rd years respectively, noting that the formula for each year will be different. Along with these roadmaps, four focus points necessary for the preparation of any exam were elaborated upon: 1) capacity building 2) how to reach one's purpose 3) the level of this purpose and 4) setting of the purpose i.e the roadmap for accomplishing the desired purpose. He actively engaged the students by giving them a hypothetical question regarding why an aspirant fails to clear the exam and received a lively response. He pointed out that, today, in contrast to previous times, the most important virtue to clear any competitive exam is 'speed'. He further underlined the necessity of backing one's dreams with discipline and the crucial role the inner call to pursue this goal/ dream plays in providing motivation. Additionally, the importance of choosing the right coaching institution, as well as the indispensable role of the individual in ensuring their own success, was stressed. Following this, the students were enlightened on various concepts necessary to build ethical thinking like getting out of one's comfort zone and discovering one's purpose of life i.e Ikigai. They were also provided brochures from Drishti IAS, detailing useful information related to the exam, like- the syllabus, mind exercises, roadmaps to follow etc.

At the end of the event the techniques of newspaper reading were held in which newspapers were distributed amongst the students. In this session the students were guided by the educator on the proper way to analyze or read the newspaper, so that only the relevant information is kept in mind. Afterwards, an interactive session was conducted, involving the clearing of doubts related to the exam and a rapid-fire round of questions to think about and answer. The session ended with a formal vote of thanks by Ms. Astha Priya, President of the Association.

Dialog (Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College), in collaboration with Manan (Centre for the Study of Gandhian Thought, Maitreyi College), organized the event ‘Remembering Mahatma Gandhi’ on the anniversary of his death on 30th January, 2024.

The proceedings began with a short introduction of Manan and what the event was about, followed by a melodious rendition of Vaishnav Jan To (a favourite bhajan of Gandhi ji) by students from the Department of Sociology. Dr. Gopi D. Tripathy (Teacher-in-Charge, Department of Sociology) addressed the gathering. She talked about how this event was a tribute to the Mahatma, and hoped that it would allow all participants to reflect upon the values discussed, shaping the persons they become in the future.

Thereafter, a discussion on the 11 vows of Gandhi was conducted, lead by Dr. Aruna Grover. These 11 vows which Gandhi ji followed and expected from his followers, and are a slightly lesser known part of Gandhian philosophy. The vows and the values they promote were discussed and students talked about what these values meant to them, how they would imbibe them in their lives, etc.

Dr. Anurita Jalan presented surprise gift-prizes to the best discussants. The House observed two minutes of silence to reflect upon the values talked about, before a performance of Raghupati Raghav Raja Ram- another one of Gandhi ji’s favourite compositions. The event was brought to its conclusion with a formal vote of thanks by Dr. Grover.

Name of the convenor/coordinator of the event: Dr.Gopi Devdutt Triapthy and Dr. Anurita Jalan, Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi

Total Number of the participants: 44 (39 students and 5 faculty members)

Dialog, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, organised a 6-day research-oriented trip to Khajuraho (Chhatarpur district, Madhya Pradesh) for its faculty and students. The trip extended from 9th February- 14th February 2024. Khajuraho is particularly significant due to its Jain and Hindu temples which have a history that goes as far back as the Chandella dynasty (10th- 11th centuries CE) and are considered masterpieces of Indian temple architecture.

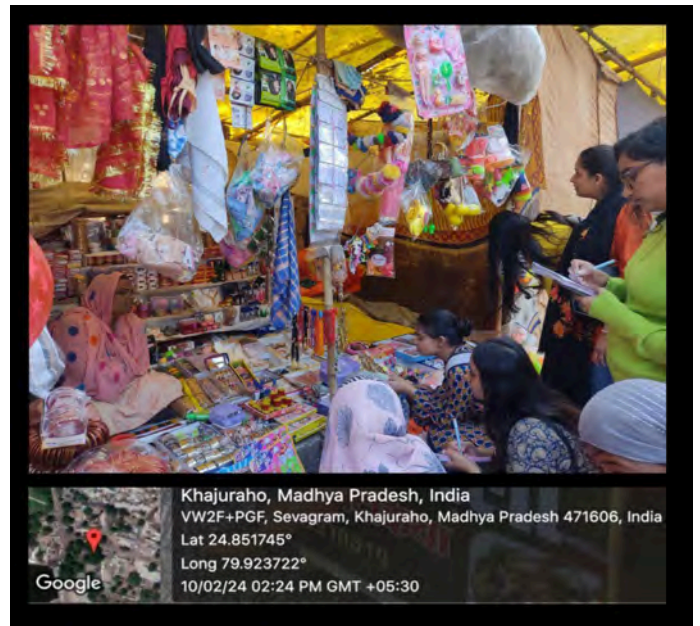

After reaching the destination on 9th February, the next day involved a visit to the Jain temples. The Jain temples of Khajuraho include about 16 different temples, the oldest and most prominent being Adinath temple and Pashvannath temple. These temples are a beautiful blend of Hindu and Jain temple architecture and are located towards the East- where the Jain community was believed to be concentrated. This was followed by an exploration of the nearby market area of Khajuraho- Chaupati. The students conducted a field research in the marketplace. They interviewed vendors, consumers and foreigners. Later in the evening, the students and faculty convened to discuss the interviews and findings.

The third day comprised a visit to Achnar village to gain an idea about the prevalence of caste and gender distinctions in the area. Afterwards, the students revisited the market for further research and came together for a discussion in the evening.

On the fourth day, the itinerary involved an exploration of the Western and Eastern groups of temples. The Western group of temples included the temples of Lakshmana, Kandariya Mahadeva, Parvati, among others. Intricate carvings such as the floral carving in the temple sanctum; the beautiful image of the rays of the setting sun falling on the sculptures of the deities in the dark sanctum- all contributed to the beauty and divinity of the place. The Eastern group of temples, with the rays of the rising sun illuminating the deities, were similarly beautiful.

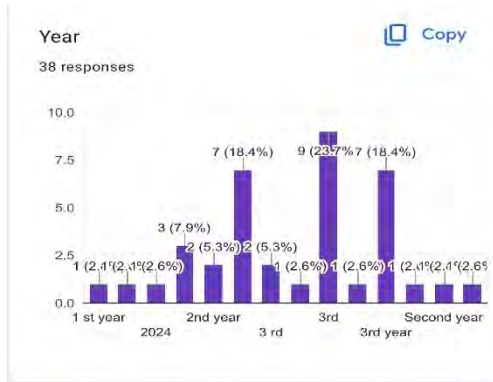

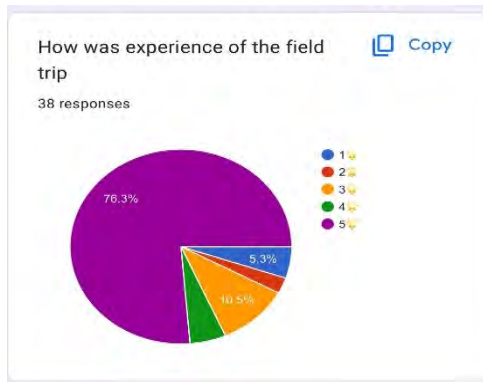

The fifth day of the trip consisted of a workshop conducted by the faculty at Govt. College Gunour (Gunour Tehsil, Panna Dist., Madhya Pradesh). All five faculty members led the session on 'Gender Sensitisation' to the students. After this, the students of the Sociology department, Maitreyi College and the Govt. College Gunour students had an informal interaction to supplement the research on food culture. The next day marked the end of the trip and the departure back to Delhi. Overall, the trip proved to be an engaging and informative experience.

Significance of the trip: The trip allowed the students to gain hands-on experience in field research, to learn how to set a research objective, make observations and reach conclusions and how to think sociologically. It also provided them insight in the interrelationship between food, culture and society.

Report:-

Dialog, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, organized its Annual Academic Fest, Imagine 2024, on March 8, in the NSB Seminar Hall at 9.30 am. The inaugural session was graced by the presence of the Chief Guest Mr. Sohail Hashmi, an oral historian of Delhi, social activist, film-maker and heritage conservationist. The session began with a formal welcome address by Dr. Gopi Devdutt Tripathy, Teacher in Charge, Department of Sociology, who introduced the theme for this year's event - 'Sociolicious: Food, Culture & Society' and shed light on how food connects us to our culture. Following this, Mr. Hashmi was felicitated by Ms. Astha Priya, President, Department of Sociology and then, invited to explore the intricately prepared food exhibition put up by the Sociology Department. Afterwards, Mr. Hashmi addressed the gathering. He began with an anecdote to underscore that our ideas of what Indian food is are very localized. In a diverse country such as India, all kinds of dishes are eaten and humans, who have evolved from apes, are natural omnivores. To elaborate on this point, Mr. Hashmi went back to the beginning of homo sapiens- how humans learned to hunt, acquire food, how we developed and how we gradually learned that fire makes food easier to eat, due to which cooking began. Mr. Hashmi further talked about the journey of food, that food has dispersed through migration and many regional delicacies have elements that were initially not native to the region. He concluded by asserting that humans are natural meat-eaters. We can choose to be vegetarian but India is not just a vegetarian country and has never been. Hence, such ideas of what is edible and what is not should not be universally imposed.

The first session of the event began after the inaugural session, involving a game titled “Guess who am I?” to engage participants in an interactive guessing game centered around various types of food items. The game comprised two rounds with multiple teams of 2 guessing food items from a card without direct descriptions. In the first round, 15 teams from different colleges competed, each given three minutes to guess items like idli, daulat ki chaat, litti chokha. The five teams with the most correct guesses advanced to the second round. Before the second round, the audience participated in a food-related riddle game about food items such as Mohabbat ki Sharbat & Chole Bhature. Those who guessed correctly received delightful prizes. In the second round, the five qualifying teams were given ten minutes each. The teams which guessed the most number of food items within this time frame were given cash prizes. Overall, with the liveliness of the spectators and the enthusiasm of the players, the session proved to be a fun experience.

Next, Session 2 of the Annual academic fest; ‘Mehfil-e Zaika’ – was conducted. The distinguished panel of judges included Dr Poonam Juneja, Assistant Professor, Department of Physics Maitreyi College and Dr Gazala Ruhi, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry Chemistry, and Mr Pulkit Daga, a well-known food vlogger. This particular competition shed light on the magical kitchen carnival of regional delicacies (including home-made food) across India. The competition wasn’t just centered around participants preparing delicacies from their hometown to be judged but it also included a food exhibition, a whimsical celebration, uniting taste buds and hearts in a flavourful dance of cultural richness. The results for the competition were then announced after the session.

In the last session, the competitive game involved blindfolding participants, and handing them a food item, which they were to identify using only their senses of touch, smell and taste. The food items included vegetables, millets, spices, etc. It was a fun-filled session, in which 33 students from various colleges participated. There was a special round for the teachers. In all, six rounds of the game were played. Post this, the Photography contest – ‘Camera eats first’ – was conducted. This competition was centered around photos and stories of food. It celebrated the rich culinary diversity from various regions of the country. Original unedited Photographs were invited from student competitors. There were five entries in all. The judges were Dr. Tianla, Department of English, Maitreyi College and Dr. Mamta Dhawan, Department of Hindi, Maitreyi College. Finally, the valedictory session was conducted in which all the prize winners were felicitated and the event concluded with a vote of thanks by Ms. Astha Priya, President, Department of Sociology.

Significance of the Event:

It underscored the deep connection between food and cultural identity, facilitated interdisciplinary learning with guests like Mr. Sohail Hashmi, and enriched the students' educational experiences. The various competitive games encouraged students to explore different cultural cuisines, promoting a multicultural exchange and appreciation. Additionally, they drove in the point that food choices are not random and not simply physiological in nature, they are also culturally and socially determined.

Report :

Ayurgyan Nyas and the Department of Sociology at Maitreyi College, University of Delhi, jointly organized a two-day conference from April 2nd to 3rd 2024 to celebrate the 10- year journey of Ayurgyan Nyas, on the theme “Approach to Mental Health & Well-being under NEP, 2020.” The conference saw enthusiastic participation from students and teachers alike, with over 200 registrations being recorded.

This conference aimed to advocate for mental health awareness and promote social, emotional, and ethical learning within mainstream education, aligning with the directives outlined in the National Education Policy (NEP) of 2020. Esteemed experts, educators, researchers, and students convened at the NSB Seminar Hall, within the college premises to deliberate on the implementation of Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) and Universalization of Early Education (UEE) curricula as per the NEP, 2022. The event began at 9:30 a.m. with a traditional lamp lighting ceremony, post which Prof. Haritma Chopra, the Principal, Maitreyi College, formally welcomed the Chief Guest Ven. Samdhong Rinpoche, the Guest of Honour Prof. Vivek Suneja, Faculty of Management Studies, University Of Delhi & the Chairperson of Maitreyi College’s governing body, Prof. Vijaya Lakshmi Singh .

This was followed by addresses to the assemblage. Dr. Gopi Devdutt Tripathy, set the stage for the speakers, elucidating what exactly one understands by mental health. She further expanded upon the Department of Sociology’s vision of actively doing Sociology, due to which it has conducted multiple workshops in the past years. Professor Vijaya Lakshmi Singh underlined the importance of physical fitness and emotional balance, in the context of enhancing mental health. Ms. Deepthi Gulati, General secretary of Ayurgyan Nyas, highlighted the need for social, emotional, and ethical learning in all educational settings and elaborated on AyurGyan Nyas’ 10 years of work in bettering the community. Professor Vivek Suneja emphasized love, kindness and simplicity amidst societal complexities, while Ven. Samdhong Rinpoche touched upon pressing issues such as war, income inequality, and unemployment and mentioned the importance of mental health for physical well-being, with mental health being a point of focus in the curriculum of Universal moral education. After the Inauguration, Technical Session 1, moderated by Dr. Kavita Bajpai, was held on 'Experiencing transformative learning through UEE in Academia'. Ms. Manjula Jhunjhunwala, founder Jingle Bells Academy, speaking on 'Nurturing Interpersonal relationships in schools', emphasised nurturing interpersonal relationships in schools, allowing children to learn independently while being supported every step of the way. Ven. Jamyang Lobsang, Founder & Director of Tong- Len Charitable Trust, spoke on 'School Culture: Creating a nurturing environment'. He discussed creating a nurturing environment by promoting emotional awareness, thought-provoking activities, and practical life experiences. Meanwhile, Ms. Nita Modi, Secretary, Lions Bal Vidya Mandir Sr. Sec. School, speaking on 'Peer pressure', addressed the subjectivity of peer pressure, emphasising emotional maturity and the effective channelling of emotions in both workplace and learning environments. Finally, Dr. Anurita Jalan, Associate Professor, from Department of Sociology Maitreyi College, highlighted the importance of cultivating ethical values within the curriculum for happier lives in her paper presentation on 'Cultivating Ethical Values for Happier Lives'. Technical Session 2, 'Empowering Lives: Significance of Universal Ethics Education (UEE) for Personal and Community Well-being', was chaired by Prof. Vivek Suneja. The speakers for the session, Dr. Pranshu Samdarshi (Assistant professor at Nalanda University, Rajgir) discussed overcoming stereotypes within and around us, focusing on age hierarchical, gender, and category (caste, class) stereotypes, while Lt. Gen. (Dr.) K. J. Singh (Honorary Professor, Punjab University) delivered a profound talk on self discipline and ethical decision making, emphasising the significance of empathy. The next session was Technical Session 3, 'A Talk on Enhancing Emotional Well-being in Professional Spaces' was delivered by retired Prof. Renuka Singh from the Centre for the Study of Social Systems, Jawaharlal Nehru University, wherein she spoke on the theme of mindfulness and the value of silence and reflection by drawing from her personal experiences as a teacher. She also highlighted the pressing need to address the mental pressure created upon a child both by the teachers and parents. The session concluded with Ms. Anshu Sahi academic consultant, AyurGyan Nyas felicitating the speakers. Apart from the technical sessions, three parallel sessions were exclusively curated- involving art workshops for school and college students by Shikha Maini and Anita Goyal respectively and a focused group discussion by TIDE foundation. The school students, in the workshop led by Shikha Maini on 'Exploring the idea of happiness', engaged in a fun- filled happiness recipe activity in which they visualised happiness in an artistic form. In the art workshop 'Mental health matters', Ms. Ankita Goyal led students in expressing emotions through art and highlighted its role as therapy. She showed various techniques and samples of art as examples, divided students into groups, and observed their methods. She then reviewed and commented on the final art pieces. The focused group discussion was conducted to strategically brainstorm ways for understanding and achieving holistic development and social Emotional learning, by Dr. Jwalin Patel, Honorary Consultant, AyurGyan Nyas & the TIDE Foundation. The facilitators introduced practical activities and strategies for incorporating SEL into educational practices. Throughout the workshop, participants, including school teachers, college professors and university educators from various parts of India, actively engaged in activities and discussions and gained valuable insights into fostering holistic growth and supporting students' social-emotional well-being. These workshops marked the end of Day 1. Day 2 began with Session 4, 'An Hour with Mahatma', by Dr. Alok Bajpai, a renowned psychiatrist and author of the book titled "An Hour with the Mahatma". Dr. Bajpai discussed the relevance of Mahatma Gandhi's teachings in the contemporary world, highlighting Gandhi's emphasis on personal transformation, accountability, empathy, and detachment from outcomes. Dr. Bajpai further underscored the importance of discovering one's own "Swadharma" or true calling, a concept greatly emphasised by Gandhi ji. Towards the session's conclusion, Dr. Gopi Devdutt Tripathy, Teacher-in-Charge of the Department of Sociology, felicitated Dr. Bajpai. Thereafter, Session 5, 'Caring Hearts, Compassionate Minds – A dialogue with Students & Experts', was commenced by Dr. Kavita Bajpai. It comprised addresses by Dr. Jwalin Patel & Prof. Kaveri Gill, Professor, Department of International Relations and Governance Studies, Shiv Nadar University on Reimagining Education: Education for Harmony. Following this, in Session 7 (chaired by Dr. Jwalin Patel), teachers & students spoke about their feedback and key takeaways from the workshops and focused group discussion attended by them through the duration of the conference. Educators from various schools, some traveling from distant locations, shared their newfound knowledge and innovative teaching practices. Towards the end of the conference, was a captivating performance by students from Mr. Faizal Alkazi's a theatre workshop was given, which effectively showcased the integration of socio-emotional learning principles. The conference ended with a formal vote of thanks by Dr. Neeraj Kumar, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Maitreyi College, thanking the team of Maitreyi College & the team of AyurGyan Nyas for their tireless efforts. Special thanks were extended to professor Avinash C. Pandey, Director; Inter University Centre for Yogic Sciences and Mr. Gagan Gill for the support. Dr. Kumar further underlined that it was the work of many invisible hands including the college support that made this conference possible. In accordance with this, he thanked all the speakers, dignitaries, participants & student volunteers. The vote of thanks, thus, concluded the 2-day conference.
