Report of the event in 250-350 words:

The English Department's Orientation Day, a beacon for incoming first-year students, unfolded on the 17th of August, 2023. Bursting with enthusiasm, students were greeted by the department's faculty, setting the stage for an inspiring journey.

Faculty members shared their passion for language and literature, offering a glimpse into their expertise and research. The curriculum preview illuminated the path ahead, blending classic and modern literary exploration with analytical prowess.

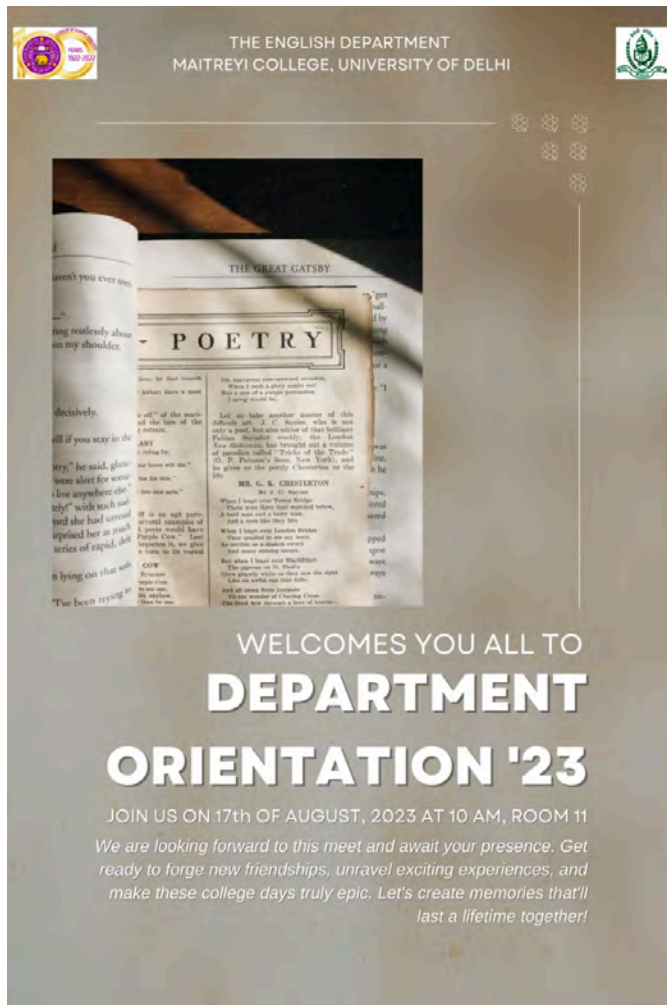

Guided by senior students, newcomers gleaned wisdom and insights, quelling nerves and nurturing a sense of camaraderie. The college's library riches were unveiled, showcasing the trove of knowledge awaiting their eager minds.

The English Literary Society, Dhiti's presentation kindled excitement, hinting at opportunities beyond coursework. A campus tour demystified the surroundings, turning a maze into a familiar landscape.

A dynamic Q&A session dissolved queries, building a bridge between uncertainty and clarity. The event not only informed but forged a sense of belonging in the hearts of these budding linguists and wordsmiths.

With renewed determination, the first-year students left with bright eyes and a fortified spirit, poised to embrace the challenges and rewards of their academic odyssey.

Report of the event in 250-350 words:

"Know Your Department" Day for the first-year students of the English Department unfolded on 18th of August, 2023, heralding an exciting journey into the world of language and literature.

The day commenced with a warm welcome from the department's faculty, igniting the students' curiosity. Faculty members, passionate about their subjects, introduced themselves and their areas of expertise, offering a glimpse into the academic riches ahead.

The event spotlighted the diverse curriculum, from classic literary works to contemporary analyses. The students grasped the scope of their studies, a blend of eloquence, creativity, and intellectual exploration.

Senior students, eager to guide, shared anecdotes and tips, quelling apprehensions and building a sense of community. The college's library, a treasure trove of books and digital resources, was unveiled, promising boundless learning.

The event was not confined to classrooms. The English Literary Society showcased opportunities beyond syllabi—writing workshops, literary discussions like the book club, and cultural events such as Ekphrasis that await participation.

A guided tour acquainted students with the department's nooks and crannies, transforming unfamiliar hallways into friendly pathways. A vibrant Q&A session dissolved uncertainties, ensuring a smooth transition into college life.

"Know Your Department" Day was more than just an event; it was a key to belonging. The first-year students departed with eagerness, knowing they had embarked on an academic journey that promises growth, discovery, and camaraderie.

General Body Meeting 2023

National/International/Inter-University/State Level/College Level: College Level

Date: 20-09-2023

Name of the organizing Department/Society: Department of English

Name of the convenor/coordinator of the event: Dr. Monica Chhabra

Total Number of the participants (with relevant proofs) : Attached below

Number of the participants : 88

The General Body Meeting (GBM) for the year 2023 commenced with a warm welcome from Ms. Manisha Saluja, professor of the department, who extended her regards to all attendees. The meeting was held to discuss various significant matters pertaining to the department and its activities. One of the initial agenda items was the introduction of the Department Core and Council members, highlighting their pivotal roles in the department's administration. Following this, council members had the opportunity to introduce themselves and express gratitude to the professors for their guidance and support.

Ms. Krishangi Singh and Dr. Savita Pathak presented the department's calendar for the upcoming months, shedding light on the exciting events lined up. They also provided insights into the activities of the Dead Poets Society and the Book Club, emphasizing their contributions to literary enrichment. The meeting ventured into planning a department excursion, demonstrating the department's commitment to holistic education. This proposed excursion is anticipated to offer students a unique learning experience beyond the confines of the classroom. An essential discussion centered around the College Magazine 'Maitreyi,' a publication that proudly boasts an ISBN number. This academic publication is a testament to the department's dedication to scholarly pursuits. Newly recruited professors were introduced, fostering a sense of community among the department's members. Moreover, members were recruited in the Graphics team, further enhancing the department's creative potential. One of the key takeaways from this meeting was the request for more interactive sessions involving students from all years, promoting a cohesive academic environment.

In closing, Ms. Manisha Saluja gracefully concluded the session, ensuring that all queries and concerns were addressed. The GBM 2023 minutes reflect the department's commitment to academic excellence, creativity, and community building, setting a promising tone for the year ahead.

Report of the event:

On 4th October 2023, Dhiti, The English Literary Association of Maitreyi College, organized an intra-disciplinary poetry meet. The theme of the event was 'Couplet Poetry', and students were invited to present their own self-composed or published poems on the given theme. The event aimed to explore and encourage poetic endeavors and give a space to poem enthusiasts to express themselves.

The event commenced at 12:00 pm with the anchor introducing the event briefly and welcoming all the participants. The first participant was Anushka with a self composed poem that interprets "The Road Not Taken" by Robert Frost from the famous Indian poet Harivansh Rai Bachchan's point of view. The second participant was Kalpi Devrani with the poem titled 'Even In Casuals Sometimes I Find Formality'. The third participant was Ridhima Uppal with the poem titled 'When A Woman Is Born'. The fourth participant was Ashima Khaneja with the poem titled 'Flowers In My Laundry Basket'. The fourth participant was Harshita Bagga, who recited a borrowed poem by William Shakespeare, 'Sonnet 18 : Shall I Compare Thee To A Summer's Day'. The fifth participant was Pratibha Soni, her reciting skills were worth praising. The event was not meant for competing with each but for learning, exploring and improving reading comprehension skills.

Many students participated on the spot and even professors recited some poems. The event was a success and received enthusiastic participation. The event ended at 1:00PM.

Event Name: Understanding Mental Health: An Overview

National/International/Inter-University/State Level/College Level: College Level

Date (DD-MM-YYYY): 05-10-2023

Name of the organizing Department/Society: Dhiti, The English Literary Association of Maitreyi College and NSS Maitreyi College

Name of the convenor/coordinator of the event: Dr. Smriti Singh and Ms. Krishangi Singh

Resource Person: Ms. Akanksha Kapoor

Total Number of the participants/beneficiaries (with relevant proofs): 135

Report of the event:

On 5 October, 2023, NSS Maitreyi in collaboration with Dhiti, The English Literacy Association, Maitreyi College organized a seminar for awareness regarding mental health issues. The mental health awareness session was led by student counsellor and child psychologist Ms. Akansha Kapoor, who was the resource person for the event.

She emphasized on the importance of mental health and dispelled common myths related to mental illness to reduce stigma. She discussed various mental health conditions like stress, anxiety, depression and self-esteem issues as well as their impact on students' daily life functioning, academic performance and over all well-being. The session included interactive activities, case studies and real-life examples to encourage students. The session included only students along with the resource person to ensure that privacy was afforded to all participants where they could discuss their personal and academic issues without any fears of disturbance. After the seminar, students were invited to share any experiences, suggestions, or compliments they may have had that made them feel like others care about them in a confession box that said, "Speak up, we'll listen to you."

The mental health awareness session witnessed active participation. Around 50 students from all different courses and academic years attended the seminar.

MOVIE SCREENING 2023

National/International/Inter-University/State Level/College Level: Department Level

Date (DD-MM-YYYY): 22-11-2023

Name of the organising Department/Society: Dhiti, The English Literary Association of Maitreyi College

Name of the convenor/coordinator of the event: Ms. Krishangi Singh & Dr. Savita Pathak

Name of Guest Speaker: Dr Smriti Singh

Total Number of the participants/beneficiaries (with relevant proofs): 54

Report of the event:

On the 22nd of November 2023, Dhiti, The English Literary Association of Maitreyi College, orchestrated a movie screening, featuring the 2005 adaptation of Jane Austen's timeless classic, 'Pride and Prejudice.'

The event unfolded with an insightful introduction to the cinematic rendition by the esteemed guest speaker, Dr. Smriti Singh. She delved into the uniqueness of Austen's work within the literary realm, emphasizing its historical significance as a creation in a domain predominantly reserved for men. She underscored how, even after two centuries, 'Pride and Prejudice' remains a cherished classic, transcending gender and resonating with diverse audiences.

The screening itself proved to be a resounding success, drawing an enthusiastic crowd comprising both professors and students. The audience immersed themselves in the cinematic world of Austen, reveling in the nuanced storytelling and timeless characters.

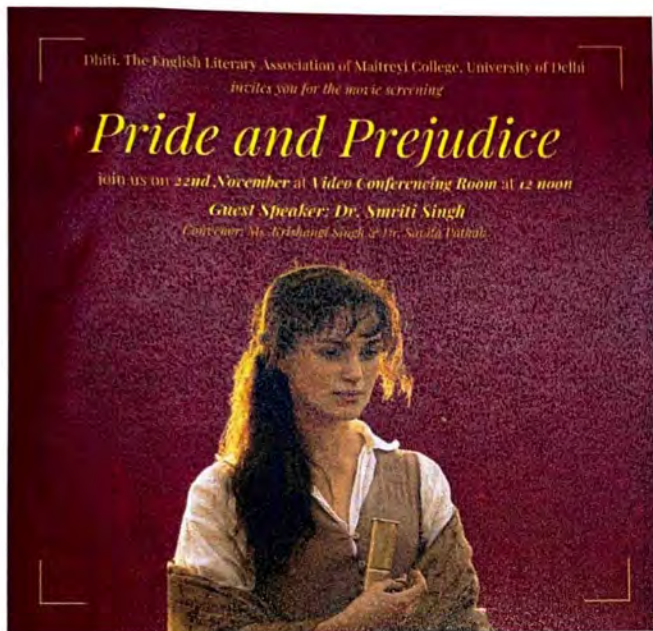

Following the screening, an engaging discussion ensued, fostering a dynamic exchange of perspectives. Students, inspired by the intricacies of Austen's narrative, dedicated time to dissect and share their insights on the various characters. The discourse expanded beyond the film, incorporating a comparative analysis with the original novel. Attendees explored the subtle nuances of adaptation, discussing how the cinematic portrayal complemented or diverged from the literary masterpiece.

The collective analysis provided a platform for intellectual exploration, allowing attendees to delve into the thematic richness of Austen's work. The event not only celebrated the enduring legacy of 'Pride and Prejudice' but also showcased the power of literature to bridge gaps between generations and spark thought-provoking conversations.

Dhiti's meticulously organized event, guided by Dr. Smriti Singh's expert insights, succeeded in creating an enriching experience that blended cinematic delight with literary appreciation, leaving an indelible mark on both professors and students alike.

Significance of the event (Outreach/Soft Skill Development/Curriculum Enrichment, etc):
The event allowed students to better understand how movie adaptations of literary texts differ from original source material while at the same time adding elements of visuality as well as bringing in the interpretation of the director in the film. The movie screening also allowed students to understand how various new multimedia modes of storytelling keep the classic texts rejuvenated by adapting them for newer generations.

Report of the event (250-350 words):

On 13th February 2024, Dhiti, the Literary Association of English Department, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi, organized the Annual Lecture 2024 on the topic "Ancient Greek Lessons For Modern Leadership". The event was aimed at discussing how the Greek Classics can be made relevant in modern academia and be used to answer the question concerning modern governance and leadership. Our guest speaker was Prof. Vasileios Syros, Distinguished Fellow at the United Service Institution of India. The event was graced by the honorable presence of His Excellency Mr. Evagoras Vryonides, High Commissioner of the Republic of Cyprus to India, and Mr. Prasun Chatterjee, Deputy Head, Primus Publication.

The event witnessed the eminent presence of H.E. Mr. Evagoras Vryonides who received the Guard of Honor, a prestigious ceremony from the NCC Cadets. The event commenced with a warm welcome from the department of English and proceeded with the felicitation of the honored guests with potted plants as a token of respect presented by Dr. Smriti Singh and Dr. Monica Chhabra.

H.E. Mr. Evagoras Vryonides addressed the gathering regarding the relevance of fostering diplomatic relationships through academia and political discussion in the current international scenario of various armed conflicts. Mr. Prasun Chatterjee shed light on the interconnected histories of different continents in the 16th to 19th century and the need for wider academic discussion on the subject.

Prof. Syros began his lecture by talking about his area of research and study. He discussed how the Greek classics are helpful in understanding modern leadership through three case studies of Greek literature and the reception of Greek thoughts in India. He further elaborated how a leader should be free from vices such as greed, personal gain and the importance of interpersonal skills and diplomacy in political leadership. He talked about Indo-Greece relationship and discussed how India is an example of modern democracy that has managed to maintain its multicultural and diverse ethos while successfully implementing the Greek model of democratic governance.

The lecture was joined by the exchange students from New Zealand and Australia visiting our college under Foreign Exchange Programme and received enthusiastic participation from them during the Question-and-Answer session.

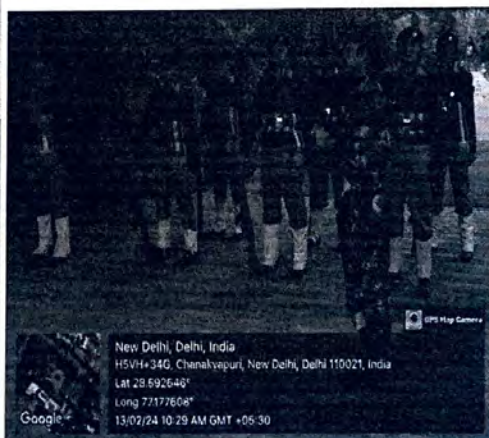

The event concluded with an engaging Question-and-Answer session. The students had an enthusiastic interaction with the speaker as they posed poignant questions to the esteemed guest speaker. The event concluded with a formal vote of thanks from Dr. Smriti Singh.

Report of the event :

On 19th February, 2024, Dhiti, the English Literary Association of English Department, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi organized the Annual Department fest 'Ekphrasis'. The inaugural session of the fest included release of the Department Newsletter, 'Dialectic' and a talk by the invited expert Dr. Prasun Chatterjee, Deputy Head, Primus Books.

The 9th edition of the department newsletter, pivoted around the theme "Kaleidoscope of Identity: Vision and Reality", was formally released by the invited guest Dr. Chatterjee, the teacher in-charge, Dr. Monica Chhabra, Senior Faculty Member, Dr. Smriti Singh, Faculty Editor Ms. Nupur Chawla and the entire student editorial team. The student and teacher editors spoke about their editorial journey and the relevance of the theme. Dr. Chatterjee commended students' efforts, who under the guidance of the faculty editor, executed design, content and typesetting of the newsletter, all of which are separate areas of expertise in the publishing industry.

In his talk, Dr. Prasun Chatterjee apprised students of the different aspects of the academic publishing industry. He discussed at length, different stages involved in the publishing of a book, starting from the editorial stage, production, print, copy editing and marketing. He also discussed the skill-set needed for a career in publishing. Dr. Chatterjee also shared insights about how to make an academic manuscript viable for publishing.

The session concluded with a question answer round where students' queries were addressed by the invited expert.

Report of the event (250-350 words):

On 19th February 2024, Dhiti, the English Literary Association of English Department, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi organized the Student Seminar in the annual literary fest Ekphrasis '24. The theme for the paper presentation was "Transgressive Women and their Representation in Literature". The event was aimed at exploring the theme through the diverse lens of gender, culture, and society. This session was hosted by Harshita Choudhary, the President of the Student Council of the department. The judges for the seminar were Ms. Krishangi Singh and Ms. Ruchi Sharma.

We received 11 insightful papers from various colleges out of which 7 selected papers were presented. Pema Chokeyi Thongdok from Ramjas College presented on the topic 'The Changing Lilith: A History of Resilience and Independence'; Muskan Pal and Sneha Chauhan from Kalindi College presented on the topic 'Unfiltered Narratives: Women and Transgression in Manto's Stories'; Sanchita Maji from Kalindi College presented on 'The harrowing predicament of women' — "The vindictive widow" in Rabindranath Tagore's "Chokher Bali"; Disha Hatikakoty from Maitreyi College presented on 'The transgression of the lonely housewife in Satyajit Ray's Charulata (1964)'; Neha Sharma from Maitreyi College presented on 'Transgressive Women and their Representation in Films'; Ananya Sharma from Ramjas College presented on 'Masculin Féminin': A Critical Analysis of the Gender Politics in the French New Wave' and Saloni Sharma from Maitreyi College presented on 'Medusa: An Analysis of Gender, Power, and Narrative Evolution Throughout History'.

All papers were diverse not only in terms of the rich variety of texts but also in terms of the research questions explored by the presenters. These papers were well-researched and academically rigorous ones which were well presented by the participants. This presentation was followed by a short Question-Answer session where the presenters answered the questions asked by the judges and fellow students. It was an enlightening seminar that left us with a lot of questions to ponder for further research on the topic of how transgressive women are represented in cultural productions and added a lot to our learning in the field of feminist criticism.

Report of the event

On 19th March 2024, Dhiti, the English Literary Association of English Department, Maitreyi College, University of Delhi organized "VISIONS UNVEILED - An Image Interpretation Competition" for the Department Fest EKPHRISIS '24. The event was aimed to capture the journey of imagination and expression as participants delved into the depths of visual interpretation. Participants were to transmute their perceptions into literary works, crafting prose or poetry that was reflected in the visual narrative.

The event commenced with the warm welcome proceeded with the introduction of the Judges Miss Nupur Chawla and Miss Sonal Chauhan as well as the co-ordinators for the event Miss Shweta Singh and Miss Pooja Bhardwaj.

The participants were addressed and the premise was explained to them. The Image Interpretation Competition aimed to foster a deeper appreciation for visual literacy and interpretation skills among enthusiasts, professionals, and students alike. Participants were invited to explore an image, wherein their task was to decipher the underlying narratives, themes, emotions, and messages conveyed by the image.

Participants were required to:

1. Analyze: Participants closely examined the given image, noting its composition, colors, lighting, subjects, and any other relevant visual elements.
2. Interpret: Drawing from their observations, participants interpreted the potential stories, emotions, and messages conveyed by the image. They explored both literal and metaphorical interpretations, encouraging creativity and critical thinking.
3. Communicate: Participants articulated their interpretations concisely and persuasively, conveying their insights through written presentations.

The event, fostered a dynamic exchange of ideas and encouraged participants to consider alternative viewpoints. Participants had the opportunity to connect with like-minded individuals who share their passion for visual storytelling. These networking opportunities facilitated knowledge exchange, collaboration, and the formation of lasting connections within the creative community.

The Image Interpretation Competition was a resounding success, showcasing the power of visual storytelling to inspire, provoke thought, and foster meaningful connections. By engaging with diverse images and perspectives, participants honed their interpretive skills, expanded their creative horizons, and gained a deeper appreciation for the art of visual communication. As the competition concluded, participants departed with newfound insights and a renewed enthusiasm for unlocking the narratives hidden within image.

Report of the Event (250 words):

On 19th March, 2024, Dhiti the literary association of Maitreyi College organised Doodlefest : A Comic Strip Making Competition under the annual literary fest Ekphrasis '24. The theme of the Doodlefest was "Slice of Life" and it was judged by Ms. Manisha Saluja. The competition took place in the new auditorium of Maitreyi College with the student coordinator, Kalpi Devrani introducing the rules and theme of the competition. The competition witnessed unique and different perceptions of all the participants with regards to "Slice of Life". The competition also witnessed participation across various colleges of Delhi University. Every entry had unique grids and so it was tough work for the Judge, Ms. Saluja to pick out the three winning entries. The winners of the competition were as follows:

The second runner up in the doodlefest competition was Hitesh Guru, a first year BFA student from College of Art.

The first runner up was Krishaank Kishore, a first year BFA student from College of Art.

And the winner of the competition was Mann Kaur, also a first year BFA student from College of Art.

A special mention was also given to Aiman Shadab Khan, a third year English Hons. student from Maitreyi College for her creativity.

The results for Doodlefest were announced in the Valedictory session, which was the enclosure of the department fest Ekphrasis 2024. The winners took Home their certificates and prizes and the competition as a whole came to an end.
