One-day Workshop for Students: Microbes, Foldscope & Antibiotic Resistance

October 12, 2022
ZOOLOGY DEPARTMENT, MAITREYI COLLEGE

Convener: Dr. Anshu Arora Anand

Organizing team: Dr. Anshu Arora Anand, Dr. Archana Aggarwal, Dr. Jaspreet Kaur

Resource person: Dr. Anupma Harshal W., Woman in STEM, Superheroes against Superbugs Fellow, Mentor and Science Writer

Number of the participants: 34 students

A hands-on workshop for the students of third year (B.Sc. Zoology Hons. and B.Sc. Life Sciences) on Microbes, Foldscope and Antibiotic Resistance was organized by Zoology Department on October 12, 2022. The interactive session on Anti-Microbial Resistance highlighted the casual attitude most of us have towards medications, demonstrating the value of understanding the constituents in the medications we take, and the concerns on how some drugs on Schedule H are provided by pharmacists without a prescription and how text about a drug's composition is written in a small font not always legible to many. The second half of the workshop focused on the foldscope, an eight-gram paper-folding microscope, with a 140-fold magnification capacity. It was a hands-on session where each student made an onion peel slide, a potato peel slide, and a slide of the white portion of the flower. They used a foldscope with sunlight as a light source, and a phone camera to take clear pictures of the cells. The entire programme was incredibly educational and engaging; the resource person, Dr. Anupma Harshal, urged the students to use resources wisely, showed how to do research using the fewest resources possible, and educated on the strategies to minimize anti-microbial resistance. The workshop emphasized on how the informed students of life science, can actively take part in educating others about anti-microbial resistance and ways to tackle and reduce the problem.

Educational Excursion to Nehru Park, Delhi

February 1, 2023
ZOOLOGY DEPARTMENT, MAITREYI COLLEGE

Convener: Dr. Priya Singh

Organizing team: Dr. Princy Hira and Dr. Priya Singh

Number of the participants: 26 students, 2 faculty members & 2 lab staff

A visit to Nehru Park, Delhi, was conducted by the Zoology Department, Maitreyi College on February 1, 2023 at 9:00-10:30 AM for the students of B.Sc. (Hons) Zoology, first year as part of their curriculum. Total 26 students were accompanied by two faculty members (Dr. Princy Hira and Dr. Priya Singh) and two lab staff (Mr. Jamuna Shankar and Mr. Sachin Thakur) from Zoology Department.

Various experiments pertaining to the pond ecosystem were conducted by the students under the guidance of faculty members. Firstly, they took the readings for pond water temperature, then measured pH using the pH strips and determined the depth of light penetration in the pond using Secchi disk. Thereafter, the students collected pond water samples in their individual BOD bottles for the determination of dissolved oxygen in the Nehru Park's pond water. Afterwards they fixed the water sample using magnesium sulfate and returned back to college to carry out the experiment further and determine DO level. Some water was also collected for observing the planktonic life forms inhabiting the pond later in the college laboratory. Overall, it was a very useful visit that gave participants hands-on experience of sample collection and measurements of aquatic ecosystem parameters.

She discussed about the various programmes governed by ICMR to help people, the Pharmacovigilance Programme of India in particular. She talked about the new emerging branch of medical science, Pharmacogenomics (PGX), which is concerned with precision medicine and a branch of pharmacology that studies the effect of genetic variation on drug responses in patients by correlating gene expression or single nucleotide polymorphisms with drugs efficiency or toxicity in the patient's genotype to achieve maximum efficiency with minimal side effects. The lecture concluded with lacunae and gaps in knowledge in recording and management of diseases like asthma. It was followed by an interactive question-answer session with the students.

The session commenced with a formal introduction and felicitation of the resource persons, Prof. Shashi Bhushan Tripathi and Prof. Ramakrishnan Sitararaman, Faculty, Department of Biotechnology, TERI School of Advanced Studies.

The session aimed to provide students with information about immediate job options, options for higher studies, and other career avenues related to teaching, research, and non-conventional career avenues. The session was conducted by Prof. Shashi Bhushan Tripathi who has been working in the field of Biological Sciences for over two decades. He began the session by talking about the immediate job options available to students with little or no training, and would provide students with hands-on experience in the field of biological sciences. The speaker then talked about the various options available for higher studies in biological sciences. He explained that students could pursue Masters or Ph.D. programs in their area of interest, and highlighted the importance of research in the field. He also talked about the various funding options available for students who wish to pursue higher studies, such as scholarships, grants, and fellowships, like available in the country, such as the CSIR, JRF, ICMR, ICSAR, etc. He then delved into the options available to students who wished to pursue a career in teaching or research. He highlighted the importance of teaching and research in the field of Biological Sciences and explained that it was a rewarding career option. Finally, the speaker talked about non-conventional career avenues such as IPR, start-ups, and ESG. He also emphasized the importance of entrepreneurship and innovation in the field and encouraged students to explore these avenues. Overall it was a very useful session, especially for students in their final year of college, where they gained important insights into the various career options available to them, and the vast experience of the speaker in the field equipped them to make informed decisions about their future career paths.

"The pain of parting is nothing to the joy of meeting again." - Charles Dickens.

With this heartwarming quote, Zoology Department successfully organized a memorable Farewell Party "BON VOYAGE" on April 17, 2023, for the batch of 2020-2023. The event commenced with a captivating song, mesmerising solo performances followed by a couple of group performances from the students of I & II year Zoology (Hons). There was also an open-mic session where the seniors took part and shared their soul-touching exuberant college experiences. To add to the diversity of events, a well-crafted video presentation was projected which enumerated the golden days of the 2020-2023 batch of students in college. The highly anticipated sash ceremony came next, where the department faculty members entitled all the seniors with titles. There was the enthralling ramp walk competition that bewitched the spectators and also some interesting games to mark the end of this eventful day. It was an absorbing day woven with irreplaceable memories that will be carried ahead ever after.

Certificate Course on ICT in Digital Learning and Data Management
The power of Information and Communications Technology (ICT) has been greatly realized by the academic community across the globe, in light of the pandemic outbreak and worldwide lockdown. It has been scientifically proven that an increase in the use of ICT in education with integrating technology into the curriculum has a significant and positive impact on students' achievements as they develop better presentation skills, innovative capabilities, and problem-solving abilities. In present times the entire education system has shifted to digital platforms, thereby widening the boundaries of education for students across the nation. The use of ICT tools promotes better education with self-paced and impactful learning. In addition, enhanced teacher-student collaboration brings positive outcomes and escalates institutional growth.
To continue with uninterrupted learning, a certificate course is designed, with an aim to enhance the basic skills of undergraduate students in terms of data collection, statistical analysis, documentation, and presentation of study results, ensuring that the scientific validity of proposed research is maintained. The course modules will have hands-on sessions with assignments for each topic, which will help students to gain confidence in the problem-solving approach.
